

"I love Kindergarten because it is fun." Holden

Kent School Kindergarten is designed to transition children from an early childhood experience into a lifetime of learning. Our small student-to-teacher ratio allows for a nurturing environment while introducing students to academics and skills they need for First Grade and beyond.

“When I drop my daughter at Kent School every morning, I have never doubted whether I made the right choice for her education. I feel that all members of the staff take their roles very seriously, and Kent School educators aren’t teaching because they weren’t sure what to do after college or that it was going to be an easy job. When people are paying discretionary money to educate their children, they expect higher results. Our expectations have been exceeded at Kent School, and our daughter absolutely loves going there.”
